

EXAMPLE INQUIRY

GENDER

An NGO focussing on women's empowerment and sexual reproductive rights is looking to start projects in a certain area in Tanzania. They have not worked in this area before and there are no other NGOs or government institutions that can supply them with the necessary information so they decide to set up an inquiry to find out more about the perceptions of men and women in this particular area. The goal is to make this inquiry cyclical so it will be possible to measure the effect the NGO's projects will have on this issue once they start.

Tell us a (short) story about a time which you feel represents how people in your community perceive men and women.
